As one of our suppliers, we need your support in order to maintain business continuity. UFP Technologies is working with national and local governments in the states where we operate to safeguard our operations. We need your partnership in that effort and urge you to take steps to secure your ability to operate and make us immediately aware if you encounter any limitations and disruptions by contacting your UFP Technologies Purchasing contact or Christopher P. Litterio, General Counsel and Senior Vice President.

Thank you for your support and keeping our community safe in these uncertain times.

Sincerely,

Christopher P. Litterio
General Counsel and Senior Vice President
